Ecobank Reports Record PBT of $801m, ROTE of 27.8%, and EPS of $0.017

Ecobank's FY 2025 Strong Performance Driven by Revenue Growth In Both CIB and CCB, Cost Efficiency, Diversification Benefits, And Focused Execution Of Our GTR Strategy

- Profit before tax (PBT) was $801m, up 21% year-on-year (YoY).
- Attributable profit to the shareholders of ETI of $407m, up 22%, with EPS at $0.017 (1.68 US cents), up 23%.
- The ETI Board has recommended a dividend payout of $40m, or 0.16 US cents ($0.0016) per share, pending shareholder approval at the Annual General Meeting (AGM). For reference, the last dividend payment was $28m, equating to $0.0011 (0.11 US cents), based on our FY 2022 results.
- Return on average assets (ROA) of 1.9%; Return on average tangible equity (ROTE) of 27.8%.
- Net revenue of $2.45bn, up 17%, with 42.4% of revenues from stable, recurring non-interest revenues.
- Achieved a record cost-to-income (CIR) of 48.3%, down from 52.8% in 2024
- Capital position remains sound, with an e*stimated* Group Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) ratio and Total Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) of 13.2% and 16.7% as of 31 December 2025. These figures are approximately 470 and 425 basis points (bps) above the regulatory minimums.

Jeremy Awori, CEO of Ecobank Group, stated that "Our 2025 performance has further demonstrated that our Growth Transformation and Returns (GTR) strategy, along with our geographically diversified business model, are yielding positive results. Group-wide revenues increased by 17% to $2.45 billion, with Corporate and Investment Banking (CIB) revenues rising by 21% and Consumer and Commercial Banking (CCB) revenues increasing by 14%. Payment revenue rose 14% to $305 million, driven by higher transaction volumes across channels. Group-wide profit before tax rose by 21% to $801 million, resulting in a return on tangible shareholders' equity of 27.8%. We also increased per-share earnings and tangible book value by 23% and 82%, respectively.

In our Consumer Banking business, we broadened access for both new and existing customers by expanding digital account openings in more markets. We installed 500 new ATMs, extended our Direct Sales Agents into 22 markets, and added over 1,000 new personnel. In Commercial Banking, we strengthened our relationships with small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), particularly in the agribusiness sector, by introducing specialised expertise and enhanced digital tools to serve our clients better and improve access to funding. Within CIB, we secured over 75 major mandates with multinationals, development finance institutions (DFIs), humanitarian agencies, and regional corporations, while $610 million in commodity financing supported robust performance in our Trade business.

Customer deposits grew by $4.9 billion to $25.3 billion, and the CASA (Current Account Savings Account) ratio improved to 87.1%, enabling us to reduce our average funding costs. We became more active in lending, especially in financing trade in soft commodities, increasing support for women-led small businesses through our Ellevate program, and offering digitally enabled consumer loans. As a result, loans increased by $2.3 billion to $12.8 billion. Given our relatively small consumer lending portfolio, there is ample room for growth without taking on disproportionate risks.

Our transformation agenda is showing solid results, evidenced by a record cost-to-income ratio of 48.3%, down from 52.8% a year ago, with improvements across various businesses and regions. This cost-to-income ratio was better than our guidance of approximately 53%, which is encouraging as we drive efficiencies while simultaneously investing for growth. We continued to invest in enhancing customer interactions across both physical and digital channels, resulting in a 1,000-basis-point increase in customer satisfaction to 70%. Furthermore, we made significant progress in key turnaround subsidiaries in the CESA region, including Kenya, Uganda, and Zambia, where efficiency ratios have improved markedly. However, we made the difficult decision to divest from our Mozambique business because it did not meet our performance and return criteria in a competitive market. In Nigeria, we met the Central Bank's minimum paid-up capital requirement of NGN200 billion for a national bank.

Overall, these achievements would not have been possible without the dedication of approximately 14,000 Ecobank employees across Africa, who have embraced our ongoing transformation and prioritised meeting our customers' needs. I am proud of their efforts. Additionally, economic conditions in Africa improved, as central banks lowered interest rates amid declining inflation and greater currency stability. As we look ahead to 2026, we remain confident in our ability to execute our GTR strategic initiatives. However, we are fully aware of the potential implications for economic and financial conditions stemming from geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, as well as macroeconomic impacts across Africa and globally. Our focus remains on executing with agility, resilience, and disciplined risk and expense management across all our markets," concluded Awori.

Other Key Highlights.

- Payment revenue up 14% to $305m (12% of net revenues), driven by a 19% increase in Disbursements (wholesale payments) to $145m and 16% increase in card-related fees to $101m
- The value of digital transactions increased by $31bn, or 30%, to $133bn, while volumes fell marginally by 5% to approximately 238m transactions, mainly driven by lower volumes in interbank funds transfers
- Customer Deposits increased by $4.9bn to $25.3bn, with CASA deposits up $4.4bn and a CASA ratio of 87.1%
- Gross loans and advances to customers increased by $2.3bn to $12.8bn.
- Asset quality deteriorated – the non-performing loans (NPLs) ratio rose to 9.4% from 6.7%, mainly due to an increase in NPLs in Nigeria as part of prudent measures to exit the Central Bank of Nigeria’s (CBN) forbearance regime
- Ample liquidity buffers with a loan-to-deposit ratio of 50.5% (FY24:51.4%) and a loan-to-asset ratio of 37.0% (FY24:37.6%). Shows Ecobank’s ability to support credit origination
- Reserves for expected credit losses (ECL) of $1.0bn to position the balance sheet for emerging risks increased to 7.8% from 5.7%. These reserves include approximately $576m of accumulated ECLs, of which approximately $491m could be used as a buffer against Nigeria risk
- Nigeria update: Ecobank Nigeria (ENG) has met the minimum paid-up capital requirement of NGN200 billion applicable to national bank license holders. However, its capital adequacy ratio is currently below the regulatory minimum of 10%. ENG’s Board and management are executing a Board-approved capital restoration plan (CRP) to restore capital adequacy to compliant levels

Constant Currency - Ecobank Group prepares its financial results in US dollars, while its subsidiaries report in local currencies. When converting these results to USD, Ecobank uses current exchange rates, which change frequently. The "constant currency" method helps eliminate the effects of foreign exchange rate changes when comparing financial results over time. This method provides a clearer view of how the business is performing, without the confusion caused by currency changes. The percentage change in constant currency shows how the business would have performed if exchange rates had remained unchanged. To calculate constant currency, we convert the 2024 local-currency financials using the average and spot FX rates for 2025, as needed.

Discussion of Ecobank Group's financial results: percentage comparisons noted in the commentary throughout this earnings release are calculated for the year ended 31 December 2025 versus 31 December 2024, unless otherwise specified.

Profit after tax attributable to shareholders of ETI increased by $74 million, or 22% (+14% in constant currency), to $407 million in 2025, driven by solid revenue growth in each of our business lines and prudent cost controls, partially offset by an increase in impairment charges.

Profit before tax increased by $139 million, or 21% (+15% in constant currency), to $801 million in 2025. In the Corporate and Investment Banking (CIB) business, profit before tax rose by $199 million to $697 million (not adjusted for consolidation), driven by profit growth across all geographical regions, except for Nigeria, where higher impairment charges resulted in a pre-tax loss. Additionally, profit before tax in the Consumer and Commercial Banking (CCB) business increased by $101 million to $480 million, with profits for the Consumer banking sub-segment up 29% and that for the Commercial banking sub-segment, up 25%.

Net revenue (the sum of the net interest income (NII) and non-interest revenue (NIR)) increased by $363 million, or 17% (+12% in constant currency), to $2,449 million in 2025. CIB net revenues rose by $255 million to $1,305 million, strongly driven by treasury management, client-driven foreign currency and fixed-income sales, and cash management fees. In CCB, net revenues increased by $157 million to $1,224 million, with the Consumer banking segment revenues growing by $62 million to $566 million, supported by deepening customer engagements, increased lending activity, higher card and deposit-related fees from rising transaction volumes, and the Commercial banking segment growing by $95 million, underpinned by strong customer deposit growth, trading activity, payments, and lending to Small, Medium-Enterprises (SME).

Net interest income, NII (the difference between interest income earned on interest-earning assets and interest expense incurred on interest-bearing liabilities), increased by $237 million, or 20% (+14% in constant currency) to $1,411 million in 2025. The increase was driven by a $247 million increase in interest income, partially offset by an $11 million increase in interest expense. The increase in interest income was attributed to higher holdings of government bonds, especially in the UEMOA region; growth in trade loans—particularly in soft commodities; and an uptick in digitally enabled consumer loans in the Anglophone West Africa (AWA) region. The average gross yield on interest-earning assets decreased to 8.7% from 9.2% in 2024, largely due to a cycle of monetary easing by central banks across most of our markets. The relatively modest increase in interest expenses is due to a successful strategy of shifting the deposit mix towards low-cost CASA deposits, which led to a decrease in the average interest rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities to 2.5% from 2.9% in 2024. CASA deposits as a percentage of total customer deposits rose to 87.1% in 2025 from 86.4% in 2024.

Non-interest revenues, NIR, increased by $126 million, or 14% (+9% in constant currency), to $1,038 million in 2025. Net fees and commissions income increased by $74 million to $598 million, underpinned by a rise in income from cash management services, credit-related fees, and higher card fees from rising transaction volumes. Additionally, fees derived from net trading income and foreign exchange gains increased by $40 million to $400 million, driven by treasury management actions and enhanced income from foreign currency sales, spurred by strong client engagement and market volatility. Other income also increased by $12 million to $40 million, driven by the net release of ECL reserves on fixed-income securities.

Operating expenses increased by $82 million, or 7% (+3% in constant currency), to $1,184 million in 2025. Staff costs increased by $67 million to $514 million, driven by increased investment in staff productivity. Other operating expenses rose by $14 million to $589 million, driven by higher statutory charges, including taxes and insurance, partially offset by lower communication and technology-related costs. The cost-to-income ratio, which shows how efficiently the company operates, improved to a record low of 48.3% from 52.8% at the same time last year, driven by higher revenue growth compared to operating expenses.

Pre-provision, pre-tax operating profit (PPOP), which is net revenues minus operating expenses, a key metric for assessing the bank's earnings power, increased by $281 million, or 29% (+22% in constant currency), to $1,265 million, reflecting solid revenue momentum and prudent cost management.

Income taxes were $201 million compared with $164 million. The effective tax rate (ETR) was 25.0% versus 24.8% in the previous year.

Table 3: Group-wide impairments charges

For the period ended 31 December (in millions of US dollars)	2025	2024	% Chg '25 vs '24	% Chg in C. Currency
Gross impairment charges on loans and advances	(807)	(324)	149%	143%
Less: recoveries and impairment charge releases	225	132	71%	66%
Net impairment charges on loans and advances	(582)	(193)	202%	196%
Impairment charges on other financial assets	117	(130)	n.m.	n.m.
Impairment charges on financial assets	(465)	(322)	44%	38%
Cost-of-risk	5.00%	1.78%

Gross impairment charges on loans and advances (the amount of income set aside to cover potential credit losses in the loan book) increased by $482 million, to $807 million. This increase was primarily due to higher impairment charges on non-performing loans (NPLs) within the Corporate and Investment Banking (CIB) loan portfolio in Nigeria. Also, management has been conservative and proactive, and has, over time, centrally accumulated ECL reserves of $576 million to address potential emerging portfolio risks. On a positive note, the amount of loans recovered and reserves released from previously set-aside impairment charges rose by $93 million to $225 million. Overall, the net amount charged for impaired loans was $582 million, up $389 million from the previous year. Conversely, impairment charges on other assets, excluding loans and advances, were a net impairment benefit of $117 million, compared with a net impairment charge of $130 million in the prior year.

Loans and advances to customers (gross) increased by $2.3 billion, or 22% (+8% in constant currency), to $12.8 billion. In the UEMOA region, gross loans rose by $895 million (+281 million in constant currency), driven by strong growth in CCB loans. Conversely, in Nigeria, loans decreased by $43 million ($166 million in constant currency), reflecting management's strategic decision to reduce lending while addressing legacy asset quality issues and pursuing its capital restoration plan. In the AWA region, loans increased by $558 million ($223 million in constant currency), reflecting healthy growth in consumer loans, partly driven by digitally enabled lending in Ghana. Finally, the CESA region recorded gross loan growth of $732 million ($545 million in constant currency), mainly from commercial lending.

Customer deposits increased by $4.9 billion ($2.2 billion in constant currency), to $25.3 billion as of 31 December 2025. In CIB, deposits increased by $1.8 billion to $10.2 billion, reflecting robust transaction flows from large corporations and public sector entities, as well as deposit campaigns. CCB deposits rose by $3.1 billion to $15.1 billion, driven by deepening customer engagements and growing primary banking relationships. Overall, customer deposits are stable and diversified, with the proportion of 'sticky' and low-cost CASA deposits as a percentage of total customer deposits rising to 87.1% in 2025 from 86.4% in 2024. This improvement reflects management's continued efforts to optimise the deposit mix and reduce reliance on higher-cost funding sources.

Non-performing loans (NPLs): our asset quality metrics for 2025 demonstrate a deliberate normalisation of our balance sheet following the conclusion of the regulatory forbearance regime in Nigeria. The increase in non-performing loans (NPLs) to $1.2 billion, which represents a 9.4% ratio, is mainly due to the one-time reclassification of a few legacy exposures within our Nigerian portfolio. Importantly, this does not indicate a widespread deterioration in credit quality across the Group; rather, it reflects the final alignment of these exposures with our conservative risk recognition standards. We have adopted a prudent and proactive provisioning approach, maintaining a robust coverage ratio of 83.3%, which fully safeguards our balance sheet as we pursue recovery.

Looking ahead, we are prioritising execution and speed of resolution. Our targeted sell-down and recovery initiative in Nigeria is making progress, and we expect it to significantly reduce the NPL ratio and further strengthen the balance sheet by the first half of 2026. With the forbearance transition largely complete, we anticipate a slowdown in the formation of new NPLs, thanks to stricter risk controls and improved First-Time Right underwriting standards.

Accumulated impairment charges for expected credit losses (ECL) increased by $402 million, bringing the total to $1,002 million. The year-end balance of $1,002 million includes a centrally accumulated ECL of $576 million, built over time to address potential emerging risks within the portfolio, including specific risks related to Nigeria. As a result, the total end-of-period ECL reserve build as a percentage of gross loans has significantly improved, climbing from 5.7% in 2024 to 7.8% in 2025.

(1) Basel II/III CET1, Tier 1 and Total CAR ratios of 13.2%, 13.8% and 16.7% are estimates as of 31 December 2025 and subject to change.
We report regulatory capital ratios semi-annually (submission deadline of 30 April for CAR for 31 December and submission deadline of 31 October for CAR for 30 June) to the regulator, the Central Bank of West African States (BCEAO). Half year CAR numbers will be finalised ahead of a 31 October deadline for submission to BCEAO

Group equity attributable to shareholders of ETI increased by $852 million to $1.93 billion in 2025. Several important factors contributed to the increase of $852 million: profit attributable to ETI shareholders of $407 million, net changes in debt instruments rose $17 million, and a gain of $348 million in foreign currency translation reserves. This gain occurred because key African currencies, such as the Ghanaian cedi, CFA franc, and Nigerian naira, remained stable or even strengthened against the US dollar. This is a big change from 2024, when the Group faced losses of $383 million in foreign currency translation.

As of 31 December 2025, estimated capital adequacy ratios indicate that the Group's CET1 ratio is 13.2%, Tier 1 Capital is 13.8%, and the Total CAR is 16.7%. The strong CAR position is primarily attributed to profit growth and a positive net impact from foreign currency translation reserves (FCTR). The surplus above the regulatory minimum for December estimates is approximately 470 basis points for CET1, 430 basis points for Tier 1 CAR, and 420 basis points for Total CAR.

REGIONAL PERFORMANCE

We categorise the Group's pan-African operations into four geographical regions. These reportable regions are Francophone West Africa (UEMOA), Nigeria, Anglophone West Africa (AWA), and Central, Eastern and Southern Africa (CESA). Accordingly, the financial results of the constituent affiliates of Ecobank Development Corporation (EDC), the Group's Investment Banking (IB) and Securities, Wealth, and Asset Management (SWAM) businesses across our geographic footprint are reported within their country of domicile and therefore in the applicable regions of UEMOA, Nigeria, AWA, and CESA. In addition, the Group categorises its Paris banking subsidiary and representative offices in Beijing, London, and Dubai as International.

1. ETI and Others comprise the financial results of ETI (parent company), eProcess (the Group's shared services technology company), EBISA (Paris subsidiary), other ETI-affiliates and structured entities, and the net impact of eliminations from the Group's accounting consolidation. Also included here is the resolution vehicle (RV)
2. ROE for the Regions are computed using profit after tax divided by the average end-of-period (EOP) total equity. However, the ROE for the Group, is computed using profit available to ETI divided by average EOP shareholders' equity.

Comparisons noted in the commentary on our regions are calculated for the year ended 31 December 2025 versus 31 December 2024, unless otherwise specified.

Francophone West Africa (UEMOA)

UEMOA increased profit before tax by $39 million, or 11% (+6% in cc), to $384 million in 2025. ROE was 26.8%.

Net revenues increased by $83 million, or 12% (+7% in cc), to $788 million in 2025. Net interest income increased by $73 million to $500 million, supported by a significant increase in government securities balances, loans, and a favourable interest rate environment. Non-interest revenues rose by $9 million to $288 million, driven by higher fees on customer deposits and treasury solutions, adversely impacted by regulatory-driven foreign exchange liquidity constraints.

Operating expenses increased $29 million, or 9% (+4% in cc), to $358 million in 2025, reflecting higher other operating expenses and staff costs related to technology and revenue. The cost-to-income ratio improved to 45.4% compared to 46.4% in 2024.

Impairment charges on financial assets were $46 million, an increase of $15 million compared to 2024, reflecting growth in stage 2 loans during the period.

Nigeria

Nigeria reported a pre-tax loss of $31 million in 2025 compared to a profit before tax of $5 million in 2024. The loss was mainly attributed to a rise in NPLs within Nigeria's CIB business, particularly in the oil and gas industry, following the end of the Central Bank of Nigeria's forbearance regime. Consequently, the ROE fell to -13.8 %.

Net revenues increased by $28 million, or 22% (+28% in cc), to $155 million. The increase was primarily driven by a $20 million rise in net interest income to $104 million. This growth was largely due to treasury management solutions and the benefit to interest expense by the part repayment of a $300 million 7.125% Eurobond by Ecobank Nigeria. Non-interest revenues increased by $8 million, supported by a rise in income from cash management services, fixed income trading and higher card fees from rising transaction volumes.

Operating expenses increased by $3 million, or 3% (+7% in cc), largely due to higher depreciation and amortisation costs and increased technology expenditures. The cost-to-income ratio improved to 67.0% in 2025, down from 79.4% in 2024, as revenue growth outpaced expense growth.

Impairment charges on financial assets increased significantly by $62 million, or 298%, to $82 million. This sharp rise was due to notably higher NPLs in the CIB business.

Anglophone West Africa (AWA)

AWA reported a profit before tax of $402 million in 2025, an increase of $87 million, or 28% (+18% in cc). ROE was 29.7%.

Net revenues grew by $93 million, or 14% (+4% in cc), to $737 million. Net interest income rose by $46 million to $456 million, driven by higher consumer and trade loans, treasury management solutions, and significantly lower funding costs from an increase in low-cost deposits. Non-interest revenues also increased by $47 million to $280 million, primarily from higher fees associated with deposits and payments, client-driven foreign currency trading, and the release of previously charged impairment reserves on fixed-income securities.

Operating expenses increased by $24 million, or 9% (unchanged in cc), to $279 million, largely due to increased staff costs. However, the cost-to-income ratio improved to 37.9%, down from 39.6% in 2024 as revenue growth outpaced expense growth.

Impairment charges on loans and financial assets decreased by $18 million, or 25%, to $55 million in 2025. This decline resulted from a $26 million increase in loan recoveries, a $25 million reduction in impairment charges on other financial assets (excluding loans), which partially offset a $33 million increase in gross impairment charges.

Central, Eastern and Southern African Region (CESA)

CESA, our best performing region, reported a profit before tax of $450 million, an increase of $154 million, or 52% (+50% in cc). ROE was 36.1%.

Net revenues increased by $188 million, or 28% (+29% in cc), to $849 million. Net interest income increased by $82 million, or 22%, to $462 million, driven by growth in lending across business lines and higher trade loans in the commercial sector. Higher funding costs partially offset this growth. Non-interest revenues increased by $106 million, or 38%, to $387 million, primarily due to increased fees from client-driven foreign currency sales in Commercial banking, higher card and deposit-related fees from an increase in transaction volumes in the Consumer business.

Operating expenses increased by $38 million, or 11% (+11% in cc), to $375 million, driven mainly by staff-related compensation accruals and tax expenses. The cost-to-income ratio improved to 44.2% in 2025, down from 51.0% in 2024, reflecting positive operating leverage.

Impairment charges on financial assets rose by $4 million, or 14%, to $24 million. The driving factors were a $20 million increase in gross impairment charges on loans due to loan growth, and a $3 million decrease in impairment charges on other assets (excluding loans). This increase in overall impairment charges was partially offset by a $17 million rise in loan recoveries.

Cautionary note regarding forward-looking statements

Certain statements in this document are "forward-looking statements". These statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to uncertainty and changes in circumstances. Actual results may differ materially from those included in these statements.

Constant Currency - Ecobank Group prepares its financial results in US dollars, while its subsidiaries report in local currencies. When converting these results to USD, Ecobank uses current exchange rates, which change frequently. The "constant currency" method helps eliminate the effects of foreign exchange rate changes when comparing financial results over time. This method provides a clearer view of how the business is performing, without the confusion caused by currency changes. The percentage change in constant currency shows how the business would have performed if exchange rates had remained unchanged. To calculate constant currency, we convert the 2024 local-currency financials using the average and spot FX rates for 2025, as needed.
